Flourishing with the Mindfulness-Based Strengths Practice (MBSP) Program

« When the laser of our mindful attention is pointed clearly at what is best and already exists in us, the possibility of flourishing increases. »

Ryan M. Niemiec, VIA Institute on Character

Mindfulness-Based Strengths Practice (MBSP) Program

- Mindfulness-Based Strengths Practice (MBSP) is a new program developed by Psy.D. Ryan M. Niemiec, Education Director of the renowned VIA Institute on Character.
- MBSP brings together the latest science of mindfulness and character strengths into an active learning experience to help people flourish by getting in conscious contact with their inner strengths (e.g., curiosity, perspective, bravery, kindness, social intelligence, leadership, humor, open-mindedness, hope, perseverance).
- Mindfulness improves the ability to uncover, cultivate and manifest character strengths consciously. Character strengths, in turn, can be used to reinforce a joyful and engaged mindfulness practice. Such practical integration of mindfulness and character strengths in life generates a flourishing upward spiral.
- This evidence-based mindfulness and positive psychology program introduces the art of developing sustainable well-being, health and performance through mindful and heartfelt balanced strengths use, proposing a blending of experiential exercises, different types of mindfulness practices, dyad conversations, and group sharing.
- MBSP is for people aiming to flourish by developing a more integrative strengths awareness and a better sense of resourceful identity, and by increasing positive emotions and relationships, life and work engagement, purpose, accomplishment, resilience, work performance, and health.

Evidence-Based

- MBSP is inspired by well-known mindfulness-based interventions, namely MBSR and MBCT, as well as the teachings of Zen master Thich Nhat Hanh.
- The flourishing benefits of MBSP are confirmed by evidence-based positive psychology research.
